Why Not Enlist?

Congress has passed laws that men who have attained the age of 21 years since June 6th, 1917, will be placed in the draft and the most of them will be placed in A1 class.

Why not volunteer and pick your service instead of waiting for the draft. Every branch of the service is open except the aviation section, and there are some good places for bright young men, and they can learn a trade and not be in the class with common laborers when the war is over.

OVER 100,000 AMERICANS REINFORCE LINE FIGHTERS.

Announcement was made from Paris Sunday that the French government has decided to accede to the desire of General Pershing that the American troops fight side by side with the British and French. All the American troops have been turned over to the Allies, and it is expected that they will at once be put on the battle front. Great activity in the American zone followed the acceptance of the troops.

A correspondent says trains of motor trucks miles long, loaded with Americans, are passing through towns. On other roads mile after mile of marching American troops are on the move.

Some of the motor trucks were going in one direction, some in another. Through a driving rain the motor trucks plowed their way along muddy roads the Americans singing. Many of the trucks had American flags fastened to their tailboards.

The infantry splashed through the mud which came over their ankles. Too much may not be said about the number and position of the American troops, because of military reasons.

It is no violation of the censorship, however, to say that more than 100,000 American fighting men fully equipped and intensively trained in the school of actual battle conditions are available at once to be thrown into places to strengthen the British and French lines wherever they threaten to buckle under the unheard of ferocity of the German onslaught. It is also no violation of censorship to say that the American government fully realizes that the second battle of the Somme may continue for some time and that American forces possibly might be the means of tipping the scales.

Gas Tar. A wood preserver to be used as you use creosote, for preventing decay of fence posts, or anything of wood. May be used for treating chicken houses for lice. Used as an exterior paint for silos. $6.25 per Barrel of 50 gallons. North Platte Light and Power Co. 23-10

Produce and Preserve. Produce for the general market; the food supply is low—general crops and stock, poultry, dairy products, fruits, potatoes, dried beans, honey, etc. Produce and preserve for the family table—Raise all the vegetables your family can eat in a year, fresh, canned or dried. Locate your market now—Prevent local over-production of any kind of perishables, which would mean wasted labor and material. Kill rats, mice and gophers—Rats eat everything, pollute everything they touch and spread disease. Rats destroy more chickens and eggs than other mammals and birds combined. Protect the birds—Hawks and owls live on rats, mice and gophers. Small birds eat grasshoppers, potato bugs and other insects. Destroy the weeds—they are thieves. Utilize wild fruits—they are free.

Brood Sows for Sale. Fifteen Pure Bred Duroc Brood sows for sale. All will farrow before April 12th. Inquire Wallace E. Porter 1 1/2 miles west of Sutherland. 11

An Hour Ahead. At 2 a. m. Sunday the watches and clocks all over the United States were turned one hour ahead. On the Union Pacific no new time card was issued; all employees turned their watches an hour ahead and everything worked as smoothly as though no change had occurred. Business houses have adjusted their opening to the new hour, as have also the Union Pacific shops and the county offices. We simply get up an hour earlier and go to bed an hour earlier—which to some people is certain to prove beneficial. Nothing is more exhilarating than the early morning air of a spring or summer day.

Flags Noticeably Missing. The writer has now made three trips to North Platte within the past two weeks. On our first trip down our attention was called to the fact that no flags were displayed on any of the three large school buildings between here and there. The first trip we passed the matter up, assuming that it was an oversight for the day. The second trip down we found there were no flags up and we made note of it. The last time down on finding no flags displayed, we feel it our duty to call attention to these districts that there is a law compelling the display of the stars and stripes during school hours over every school. We note that there were flag poles at these schools but no flags. Why?—Hershey Times.

We Show and Sell. The property that is on the market with us. We desire a large list of medium priced homes that can be bought on terms. If you are thinking of selling phone us as the place to sell and buy that home on terms.

Slow Work on Aircraft. Washington.—Testimony before the senate military committee has revealed that the United States will do well to have 25 American-built battleplanes in France by July 1. Two have been sent, the inquiry developed. 14 have been completed and are ready to go, and about a dozen more are in the last laps of construction.

Military authorities, it is said, estimate that about three months elapse from the time a plane leaves this country until it is placed in service in Europe. In the senate recently the statement was made that, although the original program called for 12,000 machines by July 1, the number would not exceed 37.

Do you have spells of dizziness and everything turning black before the eyes? These are symptoms of toxic liver and a clogged condition of the bowels. Take Prickly Ash Bitters and get rid of the misery. It is the right thing for such disorders. Price $1.25 per bottle.—Rincker Book & Drug Co., Special Agent.

"GO ON OR GO UNDER"

By Ross L. Hammond

(Mr. Hammond was a member of a party of fourteen who went to Europe in October and returned about December 1. Of this number ten were members of Congress. The party were guests of the British, French, and Belgian Governments much of the time and were escorted by representatives of these Governments up and down the battle lines and were shown many other official courtesies. Mr. Hammond is publisher of the Daily and Tri-weekly Tribune of Fremont, Neb., and is filling many public speaking engagements at the present time.)

Premier Lloyd George never coined a truer epigram than that "We must go on or go under."

How the war is "going on" can be understood, even in part, only by those who have been near to it, which privilege I recently had. That it is the most colossal tragedy in human history is proved by a glance at any phase of it.

America's part in the struggle is being performed because America cannot avoid it. Autocracy is running amuck and we stand in its road. Either it stalks triumphant over all that we have been taught to hold sacred and dear or we and those with us slay the dragon from whose red jaws blood is dripping. We and it cannot live in the world together.

I have seen England, France and Belgium battling with the beast. Now my own country is sending its men into the fray and the effort and the sacrifice that are being made abroad will soon be witnessed here. We may not see here the actual fighting. Let us hope not. But we cannot escape the other appalling features.

England is vindicating her traditions and her ideals. She is not fighting for territorial expansion. This is by no means as vital or essential to her as is proof of the binding nature of her compacts. The preservation of Belgian neutrality drew her into the struggle. For this her soldiers are battling and her great navy is steamed up ready for the master stroke; for this her women are working in field and factory and are pouring out their merciful ministrations in innumerable hospitals.

France is making the great sacrifice. Paris, which sets the styles for the world, is wearing black as a symbol of sorrow, and the world is adopting it, for all the world is mourning. But Paris and France, though in tears, are not without hope. They are looking eagerly forward to victory, when the invading Huns are driven from French soil and the lost provinces of Alsace and Lorraine will be restored to their rightful owners. The coming of the American troops has given them new courage. With unexampled bravery they are holding the line until the strength of America can be hurled against the foe. The republic still echoes with the wild acclaim given to General Pershing and his expeditionary force. It will be a mighty task for the United States to measure up to French expectations.

Riding as I recently did up and down the whole battle front in France and Flanders, I saw much of the suffering France has heroically endured. Her ruined cities and towns, her devastated territory, her dead soldiers, her outraged women, her tortured children, all cry out for vengeance.

Every reported atrocity of the German army is true, and very much more. I got much evidence from eye witnesses of unspeakable barbarities. All the waters of the seven seas can never wash away the foul stains.

In Belgium, at a reception given by King Albert, I asked Ambassador Brand Whitlock what word could be taken back to the people of America. He said: "It is difficult to put it in a word, but this is to be said of the Germans: they disregard every sentiment of honor and integrity, everything we hold sacred and dear. They have violated with utter impunity every agreement I have ever made with them." The conclusion from this and a flood of other like testimony is that "we must go on or go under." No compromise or settlement with the Hohenzollerns will be more than "a scrap of paper." The United States has one supreme duty at this hour. That is to furnish the money and the man power to defeat the arch enemy of liberty and of the peace of the world.

THE WOMAN ON THE DOLLAR. It is generally conceded that women speak their minds freely. The woman on every American dollar that goes toward buying Liberty Bonds will be able to talk eloquently to the whole world.
